

Balancing Rock

I stand here alone
Cast my shadow of stone
The sea and the sky
Are all that I've known
I'm chiseled by time
In every fine line
The story's been written
That time left behind

And it
Doesn't matter to me
Doesn't matter to me
Doesn't matter at all
That one day I will fall
Doesn't matter to me
Oh no
Oh no
Doesn't matter to me
Doesn't matter at all
I'll balance 'til I fall

The wind blows this harbour
I feel its bitter sting
Seems I've been here forever
But it's only been a spring
A spring and a summer
A winter and a fall
Ten million
Ten million
I've stood through them all

And it
Doesn't matter to me
Doesn't matter to me
Doesn't matter at all
That one day I will fall
Doesn't matter to me
Oh no
Oh no
Doesn't matter to me
Doesn't matter at all
I'll balance 'til I fall

I come from a time
When the mountains rose high
Long before there were flowers
And birds in the sky
I've watched it all come
Now I'll watch it all go
Balancing
Balancing
Balancing so

Oh
It doesn't matter to me
Doesn't matter to me
Doesn't matter at all
That one day I will fall
Doesn't matter to me
Oh no
Oh no
Doesn't matter to me
Doesn't matter at all
I'll balance 'til I fall
